Jubilee

SAN DIEGO — Sister LaSalette Trevillyan is celebrating her 70th jubilee anniversary in religious life. Professed in 1945 with the Sisters of Mercy in Burlingame, Sister Trevillyan taught sixth-grade boys at St. Joseph's Military Academy and girls at Bishop Conaty High School in Los Angeles — her alma mater, where she attracted many young women to the Sisters of Mercy. She became formation director with both postulants and novices and served as secretary general of the Burlingame community. She ministered for more than 25 years in hospitals, in pastoral care and development, at Mercy Hospital in Bakersfield and at Scripps Mercy Hospital in San Diego. She retired at age 80. Reflecting on her life as a Sister of Mercy, she said, "I have loved everything I was asked to do. Thank You, Lord, for everything and all the sisters and people who touched my life."

Parish Marks 10 Years of Small Church Groups

CORONADO — At the turn of the millennium, Sacred Heart Parish began taking steps toward "doing parish" based on small Church communities. In a three-phase process developed by the National Alliance of Parishes Restructuring into Communities, the parish recently celebrated the 10th anniversary of its small Church communities. Sacred Heart has nine active communities. Members have committed to sharing their lives and their faith growth with each other and gather in private homes twice a month to read and reflect on the Sunday Scriptures. The communities' group leaders meet quarterly with the parish pastor. The communities' bake sales have raised more than $11,500 to benefit various causes.
